Jeffers' Plays Set For European Production, Books In Translation

During the last year the work of Carmel's Robinson Jeffers has risen to a prominent position in several countries of Europe. The German publisher Ernst Rowohlt in Hamburg is preparing a magnificent German edition of his complete dramatic work. Rowohlt is one of the most distinguished, cultivated, and active publishers in Germany. For half a century he has published, on an international scale, works of high literary standard, in the original text and in perfect translations. Handicapped throughout the Hitler-period, he has after the war at once started to rebuild his publishing house. He has already published an impressive number of significant great books, f. i., works of Walt Whitman, I. O. Y. Gasset, F. G. Lorca, I. P. Sartre, A. Einstein. It was his good fortune to find an outstanding translator, Mrs. Eva Hesse, who has given a true equivalent to meaning and rhythm of Jeffers' work.

The first performance of a Jeffers play will take place on June 29 in Bad Hersfeld during the famous theater festival, near Kassel. Bad Hersfeld has an extraordinary frame for the scenery: the wild ruins of an ancient cathedral. Several German State-theaters will follow with producing Medea; also a Swiss theater (Basel).

The Tower Beyond Tragedy will be produced in October by the first theater of Austria, the Burgtheater in Vienna, and by the Staatstheater in Braunschweig-Germany. There will be also a transmission of the same play by the broadcasting station in Cologne.

The Rowohlt Verlag has written to Robinson Jeffers: "Please accept the expression of our deepest respect for your creative work. We shall continue our endeavour to give it the broad resonance it does merit. You have discovered anew the classical subjects for the

CHAIRMAN SEEKS SUGGESTIONS FROM ART BOARD

Following up last week's City Council meeting at which an Arts Commission was proposed by Gunnar Norberg, information is being gathered about Art Commissions and their operation in other cities and towns. Ideas are welcomed as to what function an arts commission should have in Carmel—also what functions it should not include. Will those who have ideas or knowledge of other towns or areas of similar size in which art commissions have been established write letters to Gilbert Boyer, Present Chairman of Arts Commission Planning Committee, Box 1164, Carmel, California.

"The Best Teachers Can Never Be Rewarded Enough," Dudley Swim

Pine Cone Recommends

Excuse me for dragging in the Greeks, but one of them said it for all time and it's well to be reminded:

"A school is a teacher on one end of a log and a student on the other."

We don't want our students sitting on logs, or in tents. We want them in comfortable, efficient, attractive classrooms. And so they shall be. But we also want them educated. And their education will be as good or as bad as the persons sitting on the other end of the log.

Dudley Swim, one of the three candidates for the one vacancy on the school board in Tuesday's election, went to the heart of the matter when he said last night at the American Association of University Women's candidate forum:

"Good teachers should be well compensated, and the best of them could probably never be rewarded enough, though I myself would want to make every effort to try to see that they were."

Mr. Swim is a Phi Beta Kappa from Stanford and a member of the founding committee of the Stanford Research Institute, but when he made that comment last night we suspect he was not speaking as a Phi Beta Kappa from Stanford or as a member of the founding committee of the Stanford Research Institute but out of his experience as a business professional who has served on half a dozen boards of directors of railroads, airlines, canning corporations, and related mammoth industrial enterprises. Mammoth corporations get that way because they have men deciding their policies, planning their futures and guiding their operations who can go to the heart of the matter.

So it isn't surprising that Mr. Swim went directly to the source of efficiency in education.

We might add that Carmel Unified School District is a four million dollar business. It has a million dollar a year operating budget and in July it starts on a $800,000 building program. It has a worth of over two million dollars in land, building and equipment.

A man used to looking a million dollar budget in the eye without blanching should be very useful on a board whose sole function is to see that our tax dollar is put to the most effective use for our children.

We recommend Dudley Swim for election to the Carmel School Board.

—WILMA COOK.

Business, Professional, Military Men Join In Backing Dudley Swim

As the date for the school board election approaches—Tuesday, May 20—strong support for Dudley Swim's candidacy to the single school trusteeship vacancy, is reported by Enos Fouratt, citizens' committee chairman.

Among those adding their views in favor of Swim are: Dr. James B. Finley, Airport Board Chairman and civic leader; Paul McKinstry, recently retired merchant; Dr. C. A. Broadus, physician and local Boy Scout Commissioner, and Mrs. Broadus; Roy John, Rancho Rio Vista resident; Admiral C. W. Fisher (USN, Ret.); Arthur L. Dahl, Pebble Beach resident and investment counsel; and Rollo Payne, local investment executive.

Dr. Finley pointed particularly to Swim's outstanding scholastic record and continued interest in educational matters throughout the years. "He would be a good man for the school trusteeship. He has had the kind of educational background which would eminently qualify him for it. We need such a man on our school board."

Paul McKinstry referred to Swim's extensive experience in business affairs. "I believe," he said, "we need an experienced executive because our school system here is becoming big business. Dudley Swim's past experience should fit him well to spend our tax money wisely."

"We think it is wonderful," Dr. and Mrs. Broadus joined in saying, "that a man of Dudley Swim's training, background, and experience is willing to perform the great public service which is involved in being a member of the Carmel School Board."

Roy John of Rancho Rio Vista said, "the best solution to any complicated problem involving people is to find an astute, courageous, magnetic leader, who knows what to do and how to do it wisely. Carmel teachers and other local educational leaders would be immensely wise to encourage the Few sparks were struck during the main portion of last night's well-organized school candidates meeting held at Seaside's Fremont School auditorium, under the sponsorship of the local branch of the American Association of University Women. Able moderator for the evening program was Carmel's Dr. Joseph Giarratana, Naval Postgraduate School professor, who was presented to the audience by the AAUW's Mrs. Howard Warren.

Of special interest to Carmel and Carmel Valley members of the audience were talks made, and especially questions answered, by the three candidates for the single vacancy on the Carmel School Board, to be voted upon next Tuesday. Particularly singled out for thorough question-and-answer attention in the written audience queries read to candidates by the moderator, was Dudley Swim. At one point he was given a series of four conceivably prickly questions, but he answered them well and remained unscathed.

The first question asked if he would give substantial salary increases to teachers. He replied that good teachers should be well compensated—and that the best of them could probably never be rewarded enough, though he himself would want to make every effort to try to see that they were.

The second question was brief and direct. It asked Dudley Swim how he personally had stood with regard to the recently passed school bond. He answered that he had voted for the bond.

The third question-in-a-row, addressed to Swim, was both ambiguous and involved. It asked generally about his attitude toward spending money "on the curriculum." He asked the questioner to stand and make the question specific. But no one rose. Since amplification and appropriate enlightenment were not forthcoming, Swim said simply that he believed in spending money where it would seem to be a good educational investment.

Question number four in the audience-to-Swim series covered a lot of educational territory. It asked Swim what changes he

HOLLISTER NINE INVADES CARMEL FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The most crucial tilt of the 1958 season is on tap for the Carmel High nine this Friday afternoon when the Hollister Haybalers visit Carmel's new diamond for a 4:00 o'clock game. Hollister is riding in first place at the present time with Carmel one game behind and anxious to share the top spot with the Haybalers. A win for the visitors will just about put them out of reach for the flag while a victory for the Padres will give the Red and Gray an even chance for the title. Hollister clipped the Padres, 8 to 5, in the first meeting this season and has lost only to Gilroy and Pacific Grove. Carmel has dropped decisions to Gilroy and King City but clubbed Pacific Grove, 11 to 0.

The Padres will shoot with ace lefty, Tim O'Shea, in this one while the Haybalers are almost certain to pitch righthander Grow. Big sticks for Hollister have been Phil Paz, a brilliant shortstop, and Jerry Grant, powerful outfielder. Carmel's power has been divided among Joe Mason, Ron Faia, Dale Dawson, and Dare Conroy.

PADRE TRACK QUALIFIERS AT SUNNYVALE FRIDAY NIGHT

With a bid to the North Coast Section big meet as a challenge, nine Carmel tracksters journey to Sunnyvale Friday night to participate in the NCS Sub-Section Meet. A third place or better qualifies a contestant to make a run at the best in Northern California and may even lead to an invitation to the State Meet at Los Angeles.

Making the jaunt to try out the Fremont High track will be Ted Smith, pole-vault and broad-jump; Phil White, pole-vault; Mike Raggett, pole-vault; Al Anderson, 140; Bill Wallace, half-mile; Pete Hanson, mile; Dennis Peavey, broad-jump; Tony Bingham, relay; and Nick Vertin, lightweight pole-vault. If any of the Carmel lads qualify in this Friday's meet, they will return to the same track next Friday night for the big North Coast Section Meet.

MORE FISH PLANTED THIS WEEK

This week the following coastal county streams and lakes are scheduled to be restocked with catchable-sized trout by the Department of Fish and Game. Monterey County: Nacimiento River, Arroyo Seco Creek; San Luis Obispo County: Arroyo de la Cruz, San Simeon Creek lagoons, Chorro reservoir, Atascadero, Santa Rosa, Tassajara creeks.

MERCHANT SOFTBALL TEAM WINS THREE STRAIGHT

The fast surging Carmel Merchant softball team has put together a three-game win streak during the last five days, downing the Marina Merchants Friday night, 5 to 1, clipping the Thrift Auto Supply, 3 to 1, Monday night in the Pacific Grove pre-season tournament, and clubbing the Big Sur Naval Air aggregation, 8 to 1, in the Monterey pre-season tournament Tuesday night. Johnny DeAmaral pitched the wins against Marina and Big Sur with Paul Ricketson getting the nod in the Thrift Auto Supply tussle. Top hitters for the Merchants have been Dick Weer, Jack McGaughey, and Paul Ricketson with McGaughey, Hank Meyer, Jim Fisher, and Bill Conlon showing the way on defense.

Next action for the ambitious Merchants will be at the Pacific Grove ball park in tonight's 8:30 game when they tangle with the classy 19th Hole aggregation. A win over the 19th Hole club will put manager Paul Artellan's crew into the finals of the Pacific Grove pre-season tournament.

Saturday night's dance in support of the Merchant softball team was a big success with over 150 fans turning out to enjoy the evening at the American Legion Hall.

PADRE NINE DIVIDES PAIR WITH GILROY

Last Friday afternoon at Gilroy the Carmel High varsity baseball team couldn't do anything right and dropped an 8-2 decision to the Mustangs in a crucial league game. However, Tuesday afternoon on their home field the Carmel squad reversed the treatment by downing the visiting Gilroy nine, 5 to 0, as Tim O'Shea tossed a classy two-hitter at the Mustangs. Tuesday's win over Gilroy was a big one for the Padres since it keeps them in contention for the B-division championship. With four games left to play, the Padres are only one game behind league-leading Hollister and the Haybalers are due to visit the Carmel diamond this Friday afternoon for a showdown battle.

In Carmel's loss at Gilroy, the entire Padre four-man pitching staff of Phil O'Shea, Tim O'Shea, Cim Conway, and Bud Conroy took a short workout with Conroy being the most effective in the losing effort. However, Cleveland's Herb Score would have had trouble winning this one as the Padre squad committed 13 horrible errors in the 7-inning fracas.

In hanging the horse-collar on the Mustangs in the return game, Tim O'Shea matched his fine two-hit job against Pacific Grove in an earlier game. The stocky left-hander struck out 11 Mustang swingers, allowed 5 free trips to first, and gave up two very scratch hits. His mates played solid ball behind him in this one with Andy Gray, Pete Osborne, and Joe Mason sparkling in the field. Dare Conroy led the Carmel stick-wielders, connecting for three solid singles in three official trips to the plate.

Carmel's junior-varsity squad duplicated the varsity performance, losing at Gilroy, 5 to 4, and getting even at home, 14 to 1. Bud Cunningham pitched a one-hitter for Coach Dan Yurkovich's unit in the winning effort at home. Mike Taylor, Bob Little, and Chris Wilkin supplied the bat power for the Little Padres while John Wilkin, Mike Draper, and John Draper sparkled in the field.

This is a Fish Ladder

Once a year the Steelhead, those great game fish of the West, swim in from the sea and fight their way up the Carmel River to spawn.

Two obstructions prevent them from getting to the upper reaches of the river by way of the stream—San Clemente Dam and Los Padres Dam—to help them over we built special ladders for them to climb.

The one illustrated above is the San Clemente ladder. It is a series of pools connected by waterfalls which the fish can easily jump. The ladder winds its way up the cliff to the top of the dam where an entrance to the lake is provided.

"Lark" Sensitively Presented By Golden Bough Circle Players

By Mary-Lindsay Oliver

The Lark, adapted as a play by Lillian Hellman from Jean Anouilh's clever history of the trial of Jeanne d'Arc, has been put on at the Circle Theatre with much courage and ingenuity and should be seen by all. It is directed by Richard Bailey. The cast of seventeen, required more than usual space, so a more complete stage was constructed and it now occupies an entire side of the circle. This highly emotional and distinguished play emphasizes the struggle between the inner visions and dogmatic education. Time has not dimmed the heroic efforts of the impassioned Joan to obey the commands of the inner voices and visions she received. Her tragedy was the outcome of England's occupation of France, and is enacted in a throw-back which the Earl of Warwick terms a "charade". The Church hierarchy sees only a rebellious schism of evil instigation in the sensible and honest answers Joan gives her prosecutors, and Warwick foresees what the effect in history will be with a martyred Joan. His prognostication has long ago been proven in England's regret of her part, even though driven from France by the action of the Maid.

Apart from the tragedy, the play's clever and sensitive dialogue has witty moments, and the horror is minimized, while a final flashback shows Joan at her triumphant and happiest moment when the Dauphin was crowned King of France.

The parts are excellently cast and acted with earnestness and sincerity in the deepening unfoldment of the action. Susan Sickafosse's Joan, an outstanding accomplishment for so young an actress, is presented in simplicity and passion. The Dauphin, played by Mitchell Keller, is a clever delineation in action and facial expression, with the best diction and vocal effect of the whole cast. Errol Allan looks the typical Englishman as the Earl of Warwick and acts with dignity, high spirit and conviction. The old interrogator's difficult part, with its moments of tender solicitude for the "little girl," is finely done by Gene Eplett. Brother Ladvene, Dan Eggink; Robert de Bandricourt, played by Kyle Woodbury who also doubles as De La Tremouille; Agnes, the Dauphin's mistress and Joan's mother, Johanne Robinson; the Little Queen, Kay Olaj; Queen Yolande, Frances Jordan; the Archbishop, William Driscoll; Joan's father and Captain La Hire, James Hill Morrison; and Jerry Mays as Joan's brother; are all well portrayed.

Bailey, the director, besides his producing, took the part of the Inquisitor, and Tom Weston, the part of the Promotor, at the last moment because of withdrawals. The assisting staff to production is Ruth Allan, William Smith, Axel Duwe, Dave Bennett, James Helms, Ruth Allan, Gilda Dayton, Beverly Bailey, Pat Driscoll, Constance Bestor, Henry Hairstylist, Church Chappell and Ruth Velisaratos. Michel MacKay is the Circle's Managing Director.

County TB Ex-Ray Examinations Are Safe, Says Expert

Because of a concern about the danger of routine X-ray tests for tuberculosis, County School Superintendent Gladys Stone asked Doctor Myron Husband of the Monterey County Health Department to have their consultant in radiology present to the county school administrators the facts concerning X-ray tests. This was done at one of the regular monthly meetings of school administrators of the county.

The consultant explained that misused X-rays are dangerous but "so is the knife in unskilled hands; so is the prescription if not properly written and properly filled."

The minifilm unit run by the Monterey County Health Department has been checked many times for safety, and numerous tests have been done for radiation exposure," he said. "The dose received with exposure is far below the accepted maximal dose. The use of X-rays with the proper equipment and in the proper hands is safe."

Co. Education Board Candidate Smith Makes Statement

Mrs. Esther R. Smith of Carmel Highlands, candidate for County Board of Education (not to be confused with Carmel Unified School board) in Tuesday's election, made the following statement to the Pine Cone yesterday.

"Concern about our national safety has focused attention on our system of education. Those in whose hands this safety rests are asking that the colleges send them competent engineers and scientists. The colleges, whether those of science or of liberal arts, ask that the high schools give sound preparation. The high schools, whether preparing students for vocational or academic careers, are demanding that the grammar schools send them students who can read understandingly, express themselves fluently and correctly, and handle the primary functions of arithmetic with ease. So while the whole structure of education is receiving major adjustments and repairs at all levels, the fact we face is that the strength of the whole depends on the soundness of the base.

"School tax and bond money must give us first of all a solid foundation on which to build the skills, arts and techniques which will insure the nation's safety and welfare. This is the time to re-evaluate our hopes and aims and to give them concrete impetus. This is the time to give the closest scrutiny to our curriculum and courses of study, to strengthen the basic courses, to weed out those about which we have serious doubts, and to return to the home the teaching of those skills which are within its ability, a task which was formerly considered not only the home's obligation but also its inherent right and privilege."

Water Committee Meets Monday To Study S&R Report

There will be a dinner meeting Monday evening at Biff's in Monterey at 6:30 o'clock for the committee which is studying a proposal for public ownership of the Monterey Peninsula water systems.

Five Carmel officials will attend. All interested persons are also invited.

Stone and Youngberg, municipal financing consultants of San Francisco have completed a preliminary financing report in which they state: "We find that a water district should be able to acquire and operate these water systems (California Water and Telephone Company and the East Monterey Water Service) with the issuance of either revenue or general obligation bonds supported entirely from water revenues under the existing rate schedules without the use of taxes."

"They point out that this conclusion is based on certain assumptions, among them that the water company properties could be purchased and the water district setup for $12 million, 200,000.

At Monday night's meeting, the water district committee, headed by Pacific Grove Councilman Ed Coffin, will discuss the report and the assumptions on which the "no cost to the taxpayer" conclusion has been reached.

Carmel members of the committee, Mayor John Chitwood and Councilman Allen Knight will attend; also Carmel City Attorney John Morse, City Clerk Larry Rose and Councilman Gunnar Norberg, whom the mayor appointed last week to make an independent study of the Stone and Youngberg report.

Carolyn Davies

Carolyn Eda Davies died on Tuesday afternoon in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newell A. Davies. She suffered a severe head injury in an automobile accident in Berkeley on Christ-Eve and had been in poor health since that time. Her fiancé, Don Carson, Jr. of Berkeley, driver of the car, is still hospitalized. The accident occurred on the day the couple became engaged.

Miss Davies was born on May 4, 1937, in San Francisco. She attended school in Arroyo Grande then worked in offices in Santa Maria and Berkeley.

Besides her parents she is survived by three younger sisters, Anne, Helen and Barbara, and a brother, Robert Davies, all of Carmel; her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Deeken and her paternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Davies, all of Berkeley; and an aunt, Mrs. Reeve Watson.

modern world." A prominent German literary magazine, the Neue Deutsche Hefte, has recently published an excellent essay on Jeffers, stressing especially the intimate connection of his work with the landscape around Carmel. There is also a translation of a part of Jeffers' Hungerfield; it will convey to the German reader a right impression of the tragic strength and tenderness of the original text.

The whole poem Hungerfield has been published by the Czechoslovakian publisher Kamil Bednar in Prague, who has written to Jeffers that the poem is generally admired. He has also just published a translation of Mara with great success. In his letter he says: "I am writing to you from a very far-off country, but my heart is near with you and your work." He is planning now a volume with selected lyric poems and also a volume containing the epic work of Jeffers.

The Plaza Fuel Company will discontinue operation in about a month. Keith Evans and Churchill Carmalt are dissolving their partnership in the business.

Motel plans are for 30 dwelling units with future conversion to shops possible for certain units, if desired. Comstock Associates are designing the building.

Mr. Evans started the Plaza Fuel Company 25 years ago, three years after he came to live in Carmel. He was Mayor of Carmel during the early part of World War II, resigning to enter Army service.

Since the war he has been both a city councilman and planning commission chairman. He is at present a member of the Carmel Sanitary District Board and Monterey County Planning Commission.

BUZZ EXPLAINS FIVE CYLINDER CAR TO CO. BOARD

Five high school seniors showed the Monterey County Board of Education last week that their schools offered basic science and mathematics courses for college entrance and discussed projects they had studied, the research they had done on problems and the solutions they had found.

Daniel (Buzz) Richardson represented Carmel High School and explained the method he used to convert a six-cylinder automobile engine to a smooth-running five-cylinder car.

Following the talks by the young people, the board approved visual aids, supplementary textbooks and workbooks, applications to the State Department of Education for life diplomas for teachers of the county, and the issuing of one temporary teaching certificate.

Ballet, Drama Of Last Week End Reflect Credit And Honor To Peninsula

BY EDWARD KUSTER

Carmel last weekend provided entertainment of a high order, reflecting credit and honor upon the Peninsula and bringing back to this reviewer memories of the Golden Age of Carmel's theatre in the mid-twenties.

At the Forest Theater, Friday and Saturday: the Spring Dance Festival of the Monterey Peninsula Civic Ballet Company, directed by Dorothy Dean.

At the Golden Bough Circle Theatre, Friday through Sunday: the moving and exciting new Joan of Arc play, The Lark, directed by Richard Bailey.

The dance festival is already a thing of the past, to the general regret. But The Lark will wing its way through the local theatrical heavens five more weekends. In this observer's opinion, anyone who has opportunity to see the play, but fails to do so, is assuredly dead to fine theatre. In our aforementioned Golden Age such a person would probably not have been found in Carmel.

The play is reviewed elsewhere in this issue — further, present comment will be confined to the ballet performance.

Carmel's Forest Theater: on a fine night, such as that of last Friday, one likes to think of the place as Nature's wordless poetry! Adding the exquisite convention of shimmering, only half-real ballet of the "haute école", supported by flawless recordings of superb music — one was fairly bowled over by the combination of the loveliness of Nature with the beauty of formal Art.

It was not necessary to be familiar, or even acquainted, with the formalized gestures and "combinations" of classical ballet to be entranced by the delightful patterns created by the choreographers, executed with grace and skill by the individual dancers.

The ensemble consisted of gifted young local dancers augmented by a charming group of dancers from the Berkeley area, pupils of Alexandra Sawicka, herself the brilliant guest soloist for the Festival. (It is noteworthy here that the Board of Directors of the Civic Ballet, headed by Mrs. Hans von Richter, is making an earnest appeal for "all Peninsula advance dancers, teachers, choreographers and musicians to join the Company and widen its horizons and scope". It is this writer's hope that narrow considerations, if such there be in so beautiful an art, be laid aside and that a general co-operative response to this invitation be promptly forthcoming, for the common good.)

The Berkeley contingent gave a splendid account of itself, evidencing first-rate schooling as well as a fine spirit of devotion to the dance; not excelling, however, the technical skill, disciplined grace and dedicated spirit of the Peninsula group.

Originally intending not to single out any individual dancer for special mention, it becomes impossible for this writer not to note that in his opinion stellar honors belong to Frank Bourman, guest teacher on Miss Dean's faculty. Rarely can one see so complete a union of supple grace, lithe strength and purity of line as Mr. Bourman projects. The guest soloist, Mile. Alexandra Sawicka, an experienced artist of charm and impeccable virtuosity, may well feel pride in her onetime pupil. Their pas de deux from the Nutcracker Suite was near perfection.

Mr. Bourman's further claim to notice is his choreography of The Seasons, based on Tschalkowsky's June Barcarolle and equally familiar waltz by the same composer. Here was a demonstration of a high degree of musicality and also of good judgment in the selection of ballet figures and combinations well within the technical scope of the charming young dancers.

Mary Clare Sale's original ballet, based on Mozart's epe Kleine Nachtmusik, won instant approval. Characterized by crystalline delicacy and split-second precision, the dancing lent a new beauty to the familiar Mozart melodies. A notable achievement by Miss Sale and by the ensemble.

It is quite remarkable that all the items on the program were pure dance, carrying no plot or "story". All was directed toward abstract beauty, an endeavor to suppress and banish all that was not aesthetically satisfying, and to intensify by all possible devices what was left. The settings were simple and lovely, in keeping with the woodland character of the place; the lighting, subtle and non-glaring, was beyond reproach; the costuming was of a shimmering delicacy not of our day-to-day world.

From the viewpoint of such pure classicism, this observer found in Les Sylphides the highlight of the evening. Choreographed by Mile. Sawicka from the famous scenario by Michel Fokine, the ballet employed, as always, the music of the familiar Chopinianna, a suite of Chopin pieces orchestrated by Glazounov, being some of the loveliest ballet music in the world, though among the saddest.

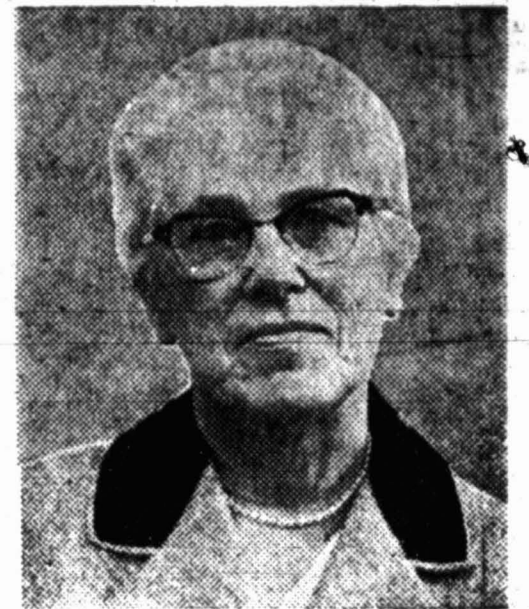

In this ballet, traditionally set "in a sylvan glade", the dancers represent sylphs, legendary beings of the forest that dance through the night in the moonlight. The choreographer in this instance having had the good taste to keep her dancers in a bluish half-light, the effect on the traditional white Taglioni-style ballet skirts was of an exquisite semi-transparency — one was reminded now of fleecy clouds, now of snowflakes, and again of wisps of mist turning into phantoms. The variations of music and dance, sometimes melancholy, sometimes rapturous, provide what is generally regarded as the most poetical of all ballets, and this was beautifully executed in our Forest Theater, a setting beyond compare for this particular item.

The phantom, the glade, the moonlight — all have faded away, but an unforgettable memory will remain, and a regret that so enchanting a vision must pass so quickly.

Praise and congratulations are due the officers and governing

Board of the Monterey Peninsula Civic Ballet, and especially to Dorothy Dean Stevens, its director.

The soloists: Alexandra Sawicka, Frank Bourman, Roberta Tabata, Alaine Hurlburt. The Berkeley group: Bette Erickson, Lori Hayes, Norma Hoshida, Melinda Ragan, Marilyn Stout. The Monterey Peninsula group: Renee Wurzmahn, Judy Cowen, Xenia Lissanewitch, Akemi Ito, Gloria Lewis, Betty Eckerson (Salinas), Sherron McGaughey, Rita Pinard, Shyla Sellards, Judy Shintani.

A TYPICAL OLD CARMEL RESIDENTIAL LOT — FOR SALE

We checked with a celebrated architect, the lot hunted all over Old Carmel.

Requirement: a smallish site within honest walking distance of the grocery stores. Architect said, Okay. This is a sound buy, (or so this buyer was advised) because come further devaluation (Ha) or not, it's Old Carmel, it's for children and dogs, and it's safe for play. The architect said, build on it and get to Ocean Ave. afoot, which is what we wanted.

Reason for selling is that we promptly plunked down a deposit and then found some acreage down the coast. As seller, I advise the reader to buy this lot. Don't forget our evaluation was based on the superb neighborhood situation, the true distance to shopping, and some fine oak trees.

The price of $8,200.00 is not a starting offer, but the bedrock as far as we are concerned. Louis Conlan is handling this for us.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg
Nowadays, any person who wishes to use a volume of an encyclopedia in the Monterey Public Library is required to fill out a request slip and present it at the circulation desk. If things get any worse here we may have to do something like that, but not so far. Meanwhile, if the persons who helped themselves to certain reference books would drop them in the book return slot near the front door, these books would be most joyfully received, G-r-r-r!

Dr. Gilbert Highet is a professor of Latin Language and Literature at Columbia University and is known to the world for his radio talks on books and people. His latest publication is a collection of radio talks grouped under the title Talents and Geniuses. Here he reveals his wide learning in charming and witty fashion. A look at the book's index shows almost fantastic range of subject matter. Titles of books are in italics. Subjects run from several references to Adam and Eve all the way to Zen Buddhism, and even include a remedy for sciatica. The hurried reader may consult the index for interesting subjects and people and read as pleases him.

Ensign O'Toole and Me is the title of another hilarious book by William Lederer, the man who wrote All the Ships at Sea. The jacket blurb tells us that this book has a tendency toward loud laughter. Captain Lederer graduated from the Naval Academy with the class of 1936. His specialty is Southeast Asia, which is where the scene of this book is laid. Mostly, that is. Partly, it's in Washington. Read it for light-hearted laughter plus some seriousness underneath.

The Sportsman's Cookbook is by the Adamsons. Here you may

Lillian Mitchell

Mrs. Lillian Alice Mitchell died on Friday in her Pebble Beach home after a short illness. She was born in Fenelon Falls, Ontario, Canada, on January 31, 1895. She was married to John A. Mitchell in Santa Ana in 1927. Eight years ago she moved with her husband to Pebble Beach from Turlock.

In addition to her husband she is survived by two sons, James Mitchell of New York and Jack Mitchell of Turlock; a brother, Fred Warren of Fenelon; two grandchildren; two nephews; and a niece.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea with the Reverend David Hill, vicar of St. Matthias Church, officiating. Interment is to be in Fenelon Falls.

JONATHAN VISITS BRIEFLY

Jonathan Rigdon stopped in Carmel last week for a brief visit on his way to start two years' Army service at Fort Bliss, Texas. He wanted his wife to meet his sister, Mrs. Robert J. Bell, and to see the town in which he spent most of his childhood. Jonathan has been living in Seattle since graduating in architecture from the University of Washington.

find choice recipes for the same game you shot and the fish you caught. The thing that makes this book special is the fact that it is divided geographically into sections of interest. Most interesting to this area are perhaps sections four and five which cover game from Texas and Alaska. Another vital part of the book is that one which gives definite instructions for caring for game between the shot and the table.

A one thousand page study of America, what it was, is, and may be, is by Max Lerner and is entitled America As a Civilization. This book is for those readers who strive for objectivity in considering the culture of America today.

There are seven new novels this week, including the Albert Camus new one The Exile and the King, and Purely Academic by Stringfellow Barr. Also the latest by George Harmon Coxe. Another good book won't hurt you!

WHAT'S DOING

D. D. Muir, your Telephone Manager in Carmel

If you're on the go these fine spring weekends, you won't often be far away from a phone. We install phone booths where you're most apt to need them. Last year more than 2500 new ones went up in the Pacific West. You'll find these handy booths in vacation spots and in everyday places, too. By finding out where the demand is greatest, we're able to select the locations that are most convenient for you. Near busy street corners. In hotels, drug stores, gas stations. Wherever you go, your phones away from home make your service even more valuable to you.

Next time you see a group of telephone men at work, take a good look. Bet you'll notice they're all wearing glasses. These are individually-fitted safety glasses. And they're a big help in preventing eye injuries. The glasses are made so they won't shatter even under a heavy blow. The way we look at it, our people are the biggest asset we've got. And your best guarantee of good service. So we're strong for safety around here.

RETURN

*When I came back the ground was white,
And I knew it hadn't been snowing,
Never a sky as cloudless shone
Nor a lighter wind went blowing.*

*I had to go round by the backway
For I couldn't walk there at all;
The path was holy with almond flowers
And nobody saw them fall.*

*No matter how lightly I'd place my feet,
I'd almost be sure to falter...
Only an angel could walk with peace
On a pathway white as an altar.*

—DORA HAGEMEYER.

A TREE TRANSPLANTED

*So long it stood without a leaf,
It's branches grey against the sky—
Yet something vital in its grief
Was promise that it would not die.*

*The days went by without a sign—
The spring, the summer passed away—
But there it stood, in pure design,
Awaiting what uncharted day?*

*Here in the second spring it stands
A feast of beauty to the eye,
Rejoicing as with flower-filled hands
It lifts its gladness to the sky!*

—D. H.

EARLY SPRING

*Forgive me, Heart: I failed you quite, I fear.
You see, the Spring came in too soon this year.*

*I'd meant to have you all securely wrapped
In Winter's coolness, safely held, intact.*

*But when that sudden warmth brought blossoming bough,
I know I can not keep you shielded now.*

—EUNICE MESSENT.

OLD TREE DYING
Monterey Cypress

*Before the sand held footprints, this tree grew clinging to seaward cliff in furious design.
Sun burst its veins; sharp spume and salt-wind blew;
the sapling-stem rose like a matted vine.*

*Condemned to tortured twist—if to survive—
it bore wide wind-pressed plumes of darkest jade;
roots wormed to rocks, as sinuous serpents writhe;
and sea-sound roared in purple caves of shade...*

Now—ghost of itself, it is marked with torment of years—knotted salt-scarred fingers claw and coil from awkward elbows, and wield their splintered spears like phantoms sparring in grotesque turmoil.

*It shudders. Wind-teeth tear-old cypress wood.
The desperate roots are loosened, stone and stone.
Sea-thunder echoes in chasm's solitude the sound of a giant falling... dying, alone...*

—OLIVIA YOUNG.

Vaqueros Ride All Weekend

Robin Strosnider, Jade Lushbaugh, Patty Hazdovac, Meriel Templeton, Kitty Bucquet, Sue Herzberg, Ellen Mosolf and Walter Wiese, all members of the Vaquero horseback riding club, spent last weekend in upper Carmel Valley on the Lambert ranch with their leader James Blee.

They hiked to a beautiful meadow on Friday evening, identified plants and birds and collected plant specimens before returning to the ranch house for dinner, then played games in the playroom until bedtime.

Saturday the children spent riding with Mr. Blee in the foothill country after rides around the ring to become familiar with their mounts. Following the ride they practiced saddling and bridling horses.

Sunday they worked on horsemanship before lunch and then returned to Carmel. Mr. Blee organized the group of young riders and nature explorers several years ago.

State Scholarship Winners

Carmel High School seniors Doug McAulay, Terry Shames and Robin Wilstach are winners of State of California scholarships of $600 each, according to James W. There are 727 such scholarship winners announced for this year in the state.

Hildegard Bockstahler Wed

Hildegard Wemmer Bockstahler and Major Clarence Andrew Mitchell were married on Saturday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock by Dr. Joseph M. Ewing, pastor of the Carmel Presbyterian Church. The ceremony took place in the Pebble Beach home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Phillips S. Davies, before a group of family members only.

The bride wore a champagne organza dress with white lace appliques and a matching velvet hat trimmed with white veiling. Her flowers were white orchids.

Colonel Edward MacDonald Serrem flew from Boston to be best man for his brother-in-law.

Following the marriage champagne and wedding cake were served to the guests.

The bride, daughter of the late William H. Wemmer, attended Tudor Hall School in Indianapolis. She has two sisters, Mrs. James Peed and Mrs. Louis Stone and a three-year-old daughter, Lisa Bockstahler, all of whom attended the marriage.

Major Mitchell is the son of Mrs. Clarence A. Mitchell of Carmel and the late Colonel Mitchell. He attended preparatory schools in Washington, D.C. and the El Paso School of Mines before graduating from the United States Military Academy at West Point and the Command and General Staff School of Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. He is stationed at Fort Ord with the Combat Development Experimentation Center.

His sisters are Mrs. Gregory Bard of San Francisco, who, with her husband Dr. Bard, came to Pebble Beach for the wedding, and Mrs. Edward MacDonald Serrem of Boston. Also present at the ceremony were the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Eisenlohr of Santa Ana, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Livingston of Rockford, Illinois, cousins of the bride.

After returning from their honeymoon at an undisclosed destination, the couple will live in Carmel.

Marilyn Mae Is Her Name

Mr. and Mrs. Duke Mater have named their third child Marilyn Mae. She was born at the Peninsula Community Hospital on May 2. Her sister, Jan, is 17 years old and her brother, Harold, 16. The Maters moved to Carmel Highlands last September after buying the Cunningham house on the cliffs at the northerly tip of Yankee Point. During the biggest storm this winter they could watch 55 foot waves break beside their home, flood the barbecue pit on the cliff with two feet of water and deposit seaweed on their lawn.

"It was wonderful," says Marilyn Mater's father, a San Jose land developer.

Walter To Be Baptized Sunday

Locke and was born at the Peninsula Community Hospital on May 3. His father has been studying ordinance engineering, guided missiles, at the NPGS since July.

Walter's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Locke of Berkeley and Mr. and Mrs. Toby O'Keefe of Klamath Falls, Oregon. Mrs. O'Keefe, who has been in Carmel visiting her son-in-law and daughter, will return to Oregon after her grandson is baptized on Sunday.

Kevin Signs New Yorker Story

Onward And Upward With The Arts is the title of the article in this week's New Yorker magazine written by Kevin Wallace, son of Mrs. Margaret Wallace of Carmel and the late Grant Wallace, and brother of Mrs. Guthrie Courvoisier.

Kevin, now on the New Yorker staff, formerly worked for both the San Francisco Chronicle and Examiner. He attended Sunset School and Monterey High School and his initial flights in journalism were published in the Pine Cone. The article in the New Yorker this week is the first to which Kevin has signed his name since joining the magazine's staff.

although he has frequently written for Talk of the Town feature. During his high school years, Kevin could be seen at the Harrison Memorial library every evening sorting, arranging and returning books to the shelves, to earn pocket money.

Last August Kevin, his wife, Helen, their two children, Deirdre and Brian, and the family dog and cat, drove to New York. They found an apartment on Riverside Drive and Kevin began his New Yorker work in September. The cat refused to accept apartment life and was sent back to California. The rest of the family adapted themselves to their new living, especially the dog, which, thoroughly enjoys being walked in Central Park, meeting sophisticated canine playmates and rolling in snow.

Legion Essay Winners' Party

Winners of the Carmel American Legion Auxiliary (Unit 512) annual Americanism essay awards were guests of the unit on Tuesday evening in the Legion Hall. Prizes were presented to Kathleen Goulding, first place, grades five and six; Jane Putnam, second; and Marianne Seaver third. Seventh, Eighth and Ninth grade awards were given to Cornelia Lieb, first; Peggy Newton, second; Karen Dawson, third. Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Americanism chairman, made the presentations.

Mrs. Henry Goodale of Watsonville, chairman of Americanism for the 28th District, was present and announced that Kathleen Goulding had also won honorable mention in the district.

Mrs. Kenneth Jones, Girls' State chairman, introduced Kathleen Dougherty from Santa Catalina School who reported on her Girls' State experiences last year. Janet Fehring, Carmel High School junior, who will attend Girls' State this year as a delegate from Unit 512, was introduced to the gathering. Refreshments and a social hour followed the program.

Gahagan Newsletter From Rome

The William Gahagan family will remain in Rome, except for Mike, who enters Occidental College this fall. Bill Gahagan writes Carmel friends. Bill is to be director of instruction at the Overseas School of Rome with responsibilities for curriculum development, guidance, parent and community relations, and to teach a senior class in current problems. He has been associated with the Overseas school as an instructor this past year.

In July the Gahagan family will go to Brussels where Bill will attend an international schools conference. Then they will say goodbye to Mike, when he sails for the United States and return to Rome.

Of his experiences in the Overseas School Bill reports, "Lorna I and all the children shepherded 30 sixth graders to Florence last weekend on a field trip. We stayed in a palazzo, where one evening, part of the ceiling in a hallway fell in. Seems one of my sixth grade boys was crawling around in the attic looking for hidden treasure or whatever. We do not believe, even now, what we were able to see in those few days—art treasure after art treasure—50 Fra Angelicos in a row at one spot; 20 Michaelangelos in another."

The Overseas School of Rome has recently received a grant of $443,000 from the United States government for an expansion program to include scholarship for Italian students. This year 349 Americans, 35 British, 19 Italians, and 51 pupils of other nationalities attend the school. The allocation was made from lire accruing to the United States from sales of American agricultural products to Italy under U.S. Public Law 480.

Baylises Return Saturday

They will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lloyd, Mrs. Baylis' parents. Mr. Baylis is in New York at present. The return to Menlo was necessary as Owen and his mother will share birthday parties today. Owen had invited his Menlo Park playmates to the celebration before they came to Carmel last week.

Farr "Breath Of Fresh Air"

Senator Fred Farr's keynote address at the sixth annual University of California conference on city and regional planning was characterized as bringing "a breath of fresh air to the political field" by Donald Foley, professor in the division of planning and architecture at UC, according to Mrs. Julian von Meier who attended the conference as a representative of the League of Women Voters and the Monterey County Citizens Planning Association. Senator Farr spoke on A Legislator Looks at the Planning Problems of Our California Communities.

Other Carmelites present at the May 9 meetings in Richmond were George Bestor and George Gatter. Mrs. von Meier also reports that Senator Farr was commended by those present for his interest in and awareness of planning problems in California. Overall subject of the conference was The City, the Country and Suburbia.

Following are the names of the boys who placed on the Honor Roll. High school: Bob Ricklefs, Arthur Dahl, Keith Dahl, Phil Bartlett, Wheeler Farish, Keith Robinson, Mike Turner, Jan Eliassen, Frank Backus, Chris Ferrer, Henry Greenleaf, Jim Black, Jeff Palmer, Bud Ewer, Dave Harvey, Tony West, Doug Cass, Birney Dayton, Al Weaver, Pat Jenkins, and Bruce Armstrong.

High School Digest Awards

Mike Dunham, judged by his teacher Mrs. Romaine Hill to have made the greatest improvement in reading this year, is winner of a two-year subscription to Readers Digest. Mardi Lloyd, second best improvement, receives a one-year subscription, and Mary Buffington, third in reading improvement, a two volume teenage treasury of short stories. The winners are among the 80 students at Carmel High School improving their reading ability under Mrs. Hill's instruction. The prizes are donated by Readers Digest educational department. Neither students or their parents knew awards would be given for the year's work. Each winner said, "Who? me?" in astounded surprise, according to Mrs. Hill. Parents' pleasure and astonishment were exemplified by Mike Dunham who next day told Mrs. Hill, "my mother just about flipped."

CHURCHES*CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The spiritual status of man created in God's image will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon on "Mortals and Immortals" will include the following from Luke (17:20, 21): "And when he was demanded of the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God should come, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not with observation: Neither shall they say, Lo here! or, lo there! for, behold, the kingdom of God is within you."

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (476:28-32): "When speaking of God's children, not the children of men, Jesus said, 'The kingdom of God is within you'; that is, Truth and Love reign in the real man, showing that man in God's image is unfallen and eternal."

The Golden Text is from John (3:6): "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit."

Dr. Harry Rogers*Sport Notes —

Dr. Harry Clayton Rogers, founding pastor of the Carmel Presbyterian Church, died on Saturday night in a local hospital. He had been in failing health for two years.

Dr. Rogers was born in Mount Sterling, Kentucky, on September 6, 1877. He was a graduate of Centre College in Danville, Kentucky and the McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago. Later in life he was on the board of directors of the seminary and of Centre College and served in the same capacity for Park College, Parkville, Missouri, and Lindenwood College, St. Louis, Missouri. He declined the presidency of his alma mater preferring to continue in the ministry.

His first pastorate was in Hinsdale, Illinois. After two years he went to Fort Madison, Iowa, for three years before becoming pastor of the Linwood Boulevard Presbyterian Church in Kansas City, Missouri, for 34 years. Under his pastorate this church grew to be one of the largest in the Middle West. He also, during this time, built the Linwood Presbyterian home for convalescent women and established homes for crippled children.

In 1941 Dr. Rogers answered a call to San Francisco to establish the College City Lakeside Presbyterian Church. The congregation numbered over a thousand at the end of his 12 years' work there.

Dr. Rogers came to Carmel in 1954, at the age of 77, to found Carmel Presbyterian Church. He retired as pastor emeritus two years ago because of failing health.

During World War I Dr. Rogers went overseas as a YMCA secretary. He was a member of many boards of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church and author of several books.

He married Miss Fannie Andrews in Flemingsburg, Kentucky, in 1902. Mrs. Rogers survives him as well as two daughters, Mrs. Alton H. Walker of Pebble Beach and Mrs. John D. Campbell of Carmel; a sister, Miss Charlotte Rogers of De Land, Florida, and three grandchildren, Sally, Martha and John Campbell Jr. of Carmel.

Memorial services were held on Tuesday afternoon in the Carmel Presbyterian Church. Dr. Joseph M. Ewing, present pastor of the church, Dr. Clarke Neal Edwards, Dr. Rogers' successor at College City Lakeside Presbyterian Church, and the Reverend Hargis Pillsbury officiated. Private family services were held in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea immediately before the memorial services.

Friends wishing to honor Dr. Rogers' memory may do so in the form of donations to the Harry Clayton Rogers fund for the further development of Friendship Court at Carmel Presbyterian Church. Dr. Rogers originated the court which now contains stones from 68 celebrated worldwide religious landmarks.

Miriam Shaw

Miss Miriam Shaw died on Saturday at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. George Thorngate of Pebble Beach, after a long illness.

She was born in Plainfield, New Jersey, on July 6, 1902, and was a retired registered nurse.

Survivors are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Shaw of Alfred, New York; two other sisters, Mrs. H. O. Burdick of Alfred and Mrs. J. I. Spellman of Houston, Texas.

Private funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea. Inurnment will be in Alfred.

Phil White, junior pole-vaulter, was the only Padre to win a blue ribbon as he vaulted to first place in the high-climbing event. Phil topped 12-feet for the fifth time this season and established himself as one of the most consistent vaulters in prep circles. Ted Smith was the Padre scoring leader, taking second in the broad-jump, fourth in the low hurdles, and third in the pole-vault. Alf Anderson and Frank Wallace turned in outstanding performances in the 440 and 880 to pick up the second places in both events. Alf blazed the 440 in 51.6 to set a new school standard for the one-lapper while Frank ran a brilliant 2:15 in the half-mile. Dennis Peavey, recruited from a gym class for varsity action, came through with a good jump to grab a fifth place in the broad-jump. The muscular junior also qualified in the 220 but ran out of the money behind the blazing speed of the Salinas and King City entries. Mike Raggett added to the Padre point total with a third place in the 880 and Pete Hanson contributed a share by grabbing fourth place in the mile. Carmel's relay team of Tony Bingham, Mike Raggett, Ted Smith, and Alf Anderson finished fourth but broke the existing record in the fourth-place effort.

Carmel's lightweight squad was nearly shut out in the point department but Nick Vertin saved the day by grabbing a tie for third in the pole-vault. Nick had some stiff opposition in the high bar event since the winner, Bill Allen of Salinas, vaulted two inches higher than the winning varsity height.

Carmel Lodge will have a special meeting tomorrow evening. Third degree will be conferred, refreshments served and sojourners welcomed.

"Best Teachers Can Never Be Rewarded Enough," Dudley Swim

would make in present teaching programs for the below-average, the average, and the above-average student. Time was short, and answers had to be brief, the moderator had pointed out. Swim answered that, if he should be elected to the Carmel School Board next Tuesday, he would simply have to study all the matters relating to present practices concerning the broad three-in-one question, before he could even venture an intelligent answer.

At another time in the lively question-and-answer period, the three Carmel school board candidates were asked:

What would you do if a proposal to have Carmel join in the formation of a Peninsula-wide junior college district, were to come up again?

Swim answered this by saying that the questioner must first understand that he, Swim, if elected, would only be one of five members on the Carmel School Board, and that he could obviously therefore not act alone in this or any other matter. He added that to ask him about possible future contingencies right now, would be somewhat like asking a doctor to prescribe a treatment before an illness had even been diagnosed. He said that the matter of Carmel participation in a possible Peninsula-wide junior college, had been studied before the board turned it down the last time, and that it would have to be studied again if it became an issue in the future.

Another candidate, Dr. Grant Fletcher, said he believed that if Carmel were to join a junior college district, it should join the Monterey rather than the Hartnell one. He said the matter should be reviewed before a decision to join could be considered.

The third candidate, Joe Walsh, said he favored merging of all schools at all levels into a single Peninsula-wide district. He also mentioned that he would prefer junior college affiliation with Monterey rather than Hartnell.

Parenthetically it might be added that it was found last summer that the cost to taxpayers of joining the Hartnell rather than the Monterey district would have been much less, but the possibility of joining Hartnell did not exist at that time because the Carmel Valley districts had not yet voted to merge with the Carmel Unified School District.

In their original short talks, spoken under a three-minute time limit rule, the three Carmel school board candidates, briefly expressed their general views with regard to schools and education.

Swim humorously compared his three-minute talk on a vast subject to "a rocket trip to the moon". He emphasized that each child should be given maximum educational training and opportunity at his mental level. He pointed out that the basic educational subjects were the "core of our educational system," and that science training was most important, but that the humanities could not be neglected, for with them came "the zest for learning and accomplishment."

Fletcher said the problem of meeting the growth of school population was a universal one, and that ours here was necessarily a part of it. He said that planning would be needed. He also mentioned the desirability of remedial courses for the retarded.

He emphasized the need for objective study of school problems and he urged use of common sense.

Walsh pointed out the need for more attention to fundamental school subjects—the three Rs. He also said he believed children should begin to have home work from the first grade on. Discipline, he added, was to be shared by the home and school.

In addition to the Carmel School Board candidates, the AAUW forum also presented others from Monterey and Pacific Grove. Of special interest to Carmel voters, however, were the candidates contending for membership as Trustee Area No. 1 (Monterey Peninsula) representatives on the Monterey County Board of Education. They were Carmel's Mrs. Everett Smith and Pacific Grove's Arthur B. Ingham. Mrs. Smith is the wife of a former Carmel mayor who soon takes office as president of the Carmel Rotary Club. Mrs. Smith—her given name, as it will appear on the ballot, is Esther—described the "exciting field of education", and pointed out that the educational road could follow a downward grade if educational leaders did not remain alert.

The talks in the course of the evening, which departed noticeably from the direction taken by the others, were those made by the contenders for the highly paid office of County Superintendent of Schools. These contenders were David Gray and Gladys Stone, the incumbent, who sparred with verbal knives. The decision on this county position will, however, not be made next Tuesday, but in the June primaries.

June 3 Primary Candidates To Speak At League Forum

The League of Women Voters of the Monterey Peninsula will hold a candidates' meeting on Monday night at 8:00 o'clock at the Monterey USO. The public is invited to attend. There is no admission charge.

The following candidates in the June 3 election will appear and present their views:

For Congress, 13th District: Rep. Charles M. Teague, represented by Elwood Wilson; and William K. Stewart. For State Assembly: Saul Weingarten and Alan Pattee. For County Assessor: Donald Stewart and John J. Walsh. For County Auditor: Stanley F. Davis, Gordon Goodrich, and Chester Stalter. For District Attorney: Edward K. Barnes and John Shepard. For Tax Collector: James T. Birch, Warren Church, William J. Crabbe, and Michael Franke. For Treasurer: Roger J. Ernst and Russell W. Giles. For County Superintendent of Schools: David Gray and Gladys Stone.

In order to conserve time for the question period, candidates running unopposed will not speak. However, they will be introduced.

candidacy of Dudley Swim."

"I am certainly glad to advocate the election of Dudley Swim to the Carmel School Board," Admiral Fisher said enthusiastically. "With his experience in financial affairs, he is exceptionally well equipped to see that the taxpayer's dollar yields the maximum return in educational benefit."

Arthur Dahl, who like Swim attended the Graduate School of Business at Stanford, said, "I have known Dudley Swim for many years, and I have worked with him on Stanford Business School Alumni activities. I have also, for a long time, been familiar with his outstanding achievements in the business world. I believe the community would be most fortunate to have a man of Dudley Swim's calibre active in school affairs. I strongly urge everyone to vote for him in the election next Tuesday."

Rollo Payne said, "It is indeed a great pleasure to be able to support someone like Dudley Swim. His background and experience are such that we should consider ourselves very fortunate indeed in having the opportunity of acquiring his services for our school board. I hope all the voters feel as I do next Tuesday, May 20, election day."
